Faculty
Pam Spivey, MSN, APRN, CCNS, RN-BC is an expert clinician and educator in neonatal nursing who has spent the majority of her career in neonatal nursing including as a Registered Nurse, Neonatal Outreach Education Coordinator, and Neonatal Clinical Nurse Specialist. She has served as a neonatal nursing expert, speaker, and author for Nurse Builders for the past 4 years and has become a leading authority on the RNC-NIC and Neonatal CCRN certification exam review processes. In this role, Pam presents both RNC-NIC/Neonatal CCRN and RNC-LRN Certification Review Courses at hospitals across the country, authors two popular series of exam review study cards and books, and has helped nurses throughout the country to pass the RNC-NIC, Neonatal CCRN, and Low Risk Neonatal Nursing Certification Exams. Pam is active in the National Association of Neonatal Nurses (NANN) having served as Education Provider Committee Chair, Director at Large, and most recently as President. Pam’s passion for the neonatal population and the nurses who care for them translates in this course through the way she prepares participants to challenge and pass the certification exam.
